HOAGLAND'S NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING! W. E. COOPER

HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive Carriage Factory, Corner of Second and Morrison Streets

He respectfully refers to the following CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling Invented by H B Hoagland we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongue to all vehicles that has ever been used. It fastens without bolt or screw and is therefore easily [illegible] separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as [illegible] is entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs the restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant and is [illegible] safe and secure. It is easy to change to this style [illegible] buggy [illegible] vehicle [illegible] use and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention [illegible] ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent heretofore [illegible] in use

Congressional

WASHINGTON March [illegible] the House [illegible] large number of bills were introduced and [illegible] disposed of.

In the Senate Mr Carpenter [illegible] bill in reference to United States [illegible] The Senate then went into executive session.

[illegible] Marshal for California was withdrawn from [illegible] day

Washington News

WASHINGTON March [illegible] tariff bill will be resumed in the House [illegible] and an effort will be made to [illegible] general debate before the end of the week

The House Military Committee have for the present, completed their investigation into the cadet business and turned their attention to the heavy current of business before them

It is believed the Committee on Ways and Means will strike from the Internal Revenue bill the clause levying a special tax on farmers for selling their produce from wagons or stalls in the cities

The principal Cherokee chief and delegates from the Cherokee nation have sent a memorial to the Senate protesting against a territorial form of government under the legislative jurisdiction of Congress and the abrogation of existing treaties against the burden of taxation without representation, and in favor of the payment by the United States of all its just obligations to said nation

Information comes from Texas of trouble along the frontier between the Camanches and settlers. Numerous raids are being made by the former and many settlers have been killed and women and children captured

The Navy department is anxiously awaiting detailed reports both from Admiral Rowan commanding the Asiatic squadron and the State department, of the investigation of the Oneida disaster

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that farmers are required to make returns of the produce sold within the year but are not required to return the produce until sold

CHICAGO March 20—A Tribune's Washington special says Senators who have taken some pains to ascertain the feeling about the San Domingo treaty since the visit of the President to the Capitol, feel confident that the majority of the Senators are opposed to the measure

The House Committee on Territories have under consideration the question of refusing to sanction those laws in Wyoming Territory under which certain creditors of the Union Pacific railroad have claimed the power to levy upon the movable property of the road. The committee has not arrived at a definite conclusion but the probabilities are that such measures will be agreed upon as to prevent any interruption of the business of the road. The same committee will report in favor of the bill of Cullom, designed to protect the Chinese from certain discriminating taxes, such as the miners tax. It is designed to meet the difficulty by the abrogation of all laws of any Territory authorizing such taxes

The Tribune's Washington special says the Committee of Ways and Means have agreed to report a bill repealing the provision of the revenue law giving a moiety of fines and forfeitures to informers, on the ground that it is a premium offered for perjury

A report was current throughout the day that Commissioner Delano had resigned, but up to this evening he had not done so. He has however, been talking of doing so for some time

New York News

NEW YORK, March 20—Rumors are afloat of the removal of Supervisor Duchen and Postmaster Jones, the names of whose successors will go to the Senate this week

The Erie railroad company will discharge the gang who participated in the riot at Jersey City Saturday. Two of the ringleaders one of whom was shot in the head, have been committed for trial

NEW YORK, March 20—There is no foundation whatever for the rumor that Collector Bailey has been arrested. There are conflicting reports regarding him, one that there is reason to believe that he committed suicide. The defalcation, it is now thought will exceed $200 000

Edward James yesterday applied to the United Circuit Court for a warrant for the arrest of Postmaster Jones, who, acting under instructions from Washington sends all letters addressed to known swindlers and gift enterprises in this city to the dead letter office

The American Colonization Society held public meetings last evening in behalf of African colonization. Addresses were delivered by Rev Dr Tyng and others

Numerous stores are vacant on Broadway and other desirable locations in the city evidencing depression of general trade. Over 10 000 men are out of employment in this city. Reduction in prices of labor have been in all cases initiated by employers who stated their inability to pay existing rates and the employed have been forced in every case to submit

Gen Quesada is out with a card. He says "I will not busy myself at all with denying anything that the public press may say in regard to me as I need to devote all my time to the fulfillment in as short time as possible of the mission with which the Republican Government of Cuba has charged me

The State of Things at Richmond

RICHMOND March 20—All is quiet here to night. Mayor Allison's police force has possession of the city. Mayor Cahoon's force of fifty men is still in their station house which was surrounded by a large crowd of blacks [illegible] Walker has written a reply to Gen Canby. The Governor quotes all the acts of Congress on the subject to show that Gen Canby had no shadow of authority for interfering in municipal affairs unless called upon by the Legislature or State authorities nor has he any authority in the orders of the President or Secretary of War. The Governor says as he is the chief executive officer of the State, so he will see that its laws are faithfully executed, and when he finds the proper time and the State power inadequate he will call in the aid of the United States. He contends that in municipal difficulties in New York neither Gen Canby nor any other military officer would have interfered, nor should it be done in Virginia a State that stands on the same footing in the Union with any other

RICHMOND March 20 midnight. The [illegible] police are attempting to clear the streets. A large crowd of negroes fired on the police. One policeman was killed and one wounded. The police returned the fire and drove off the negroes who carried their dead and wounded with them. All is quiet at this hour

Incompetent Builders Indicted

CHICAGO March 20. The Case of Collector Bailey

NEW YORK March 20. It was [illegible] that last night Collector Bailey [illegible] yet at [illegible] correct. Allegations against Bailey [illegible] public [illegible] sixty seven [illegible] several hundred barrels of whiskey [illegible] have been transported [illegible] charges of peculation [illegible] the aggregate of two [illegible] dollars are made [illegible] all the [illegible] trict will be [illegible] Collector [illegible] charges were not sustained

Report on the Piegan Indian Slaughter

CHICAGO March 20. The Tribune publishes this morning a letter from General Sully to General Sheridan including a copy of his official report to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs upon the Piegan affair. General Sully says that the Associated Press dispatches in regard to this report were calculated to place him in a false light as intimating that he concurred in the action of Col Baker and the military authorities which the [illegible] majority [illegible] should have been held responsible [illegible]

Transatlantic Cable Matters

NEW YORK March 20. The [illegible] correspondent writes that it is difficult to obtain any [illegible] information as to the course [illegible] proceedings [illegible] under the French Government [illegible] understanding with and direction of the French Trans Atlantic Cable. It is said the latter will [illegible] renounce their monopoly until they see what Congress is going to do. It is also stated the French Government will investigate very narrowly the position and prospects of the companies applying and will insist on a large money guarantee—100 000 francs for executing the project.

From Hayti

SAN FRANCISCO March 21—There is considerable feeling in this city about the action of the present Legislature at Sacramento. Protests against such ruinous legislation as the Lake Tahoe [illegible] scheme and the mortgage tax law are being signed by thousands of the best citizens. A general feeling of insecurity of property prevails, and measures for massing the citizens for self protection are talked of Sudden Death at Oregon City.

OREGON CITY, March 21—Michael B[illegible] who had been in the employ of the People's Transportation Company in this city, died suddenly at 4 o clock this afternoon at the Phoenix Hotel, by the rupture of a blood vessel, [illegible] instant death

A NEW SYSTEM OF FREIGHT TRANSPORTATION.—A company has been organized in New York for the purpose of constructing a pneumatic tube for the transmission of freight by means of hollow spheres. The tube may be built [illegible] or above the ground. On the bottom of this [illegible] is laid a road bed or track of metallic plate slightly concave to adapt it to the convexity of the spheres. These spheres or globes are hollow, the space within being occupied by freight. The [illegible] is kept in its place by tight packing and by the centrifugal force acquired by the rapidity with which the globes are moved. These globes will be propelled by the exhaustion of air from the other end of the tube, worked by an air pump. As soon as air enough is drawn out of the tube to destroy its equilibrium, the [illegible] strikes the sphere and carries it to its [illegible] pressure on a sphere six feet in [illegible] under a complete exhaustion, would be about fifty two thousand pounds. When the spheres are once in motion a pressure of less than one [illegible] pounds will propel them as rapidly as required. It is claimed that a velocity of from one hundred and fifty to two hundred miles an hour can be attained. It is proposed to construct the [illegible] of narrow plank, tongued and grooved, with cemented joints. The originator [illegible] that a line of tubes eight feet in diameter can be built for about $10 000 per mile.

If this new [illegible] be [illegible] all its inventors claim for it, then it must, in a [illegible], supersede present modes of transportation for many kinds of freight, and prove a valuable auxiliary in effecting [illegible] the products of the country, even of a perishable nature being transported from one [illegible] to another in a few hours' [illegible] and delivered perfectly fresh and sound, where now it requires days to perform like labor, and the transportation of perishable articles cannot be [illegible]

THE FUTURE MORMON HOME.—The idea is spreading that the polygamists of Utah [illegible] to quit that Territory. The Salt Lake City correspondent of the New York Sun, that wrote about it in February

About the 20th of this month, Brigham Young and a host of [illegible] will leave the city for a long south [illegible] to pay a visit to the [illegible] but in reality it is their intention to penetrate the lower portion of the Territory of Arizona [illegible] the [illegible] line, and there select a new place of [illegible] for the gathering of the Saints. As soon as arrangements can be perfected, all those who live in polygamy will be removed from this [illegible] of the country to settle in this new State of Zion.

As the main object of the Cullom bill is to suppress polygamy, it will in this manner be defeated for when the bill is [illegible] there will be no polygamy in Utah to [illegible] and if the Government should feel disposed to [illegible] in their new abode they can quietly remove within the Mexican lines and there defy the laws of the country without fear or molestation.

A VAST MINE OF SOLID SODA. The Gold Hill (Nevada) News states that about fifty miles east of that place and Virginia City is an immense and apparently inexhaustible deposit of [illegible] pure soda. It is owned by [illegible] in [illegible] and Virginia, who use it in the [illegible] and also supply quartz mills with it as [illegible] agent for the reduction of [illegible]. They also supply it to the drug and grocery stores, where it is sold for washing and other purposes for which [illegible] soda is ordinarily [illegible]. It is free from all earthy matter, and consists of eighty per cent. soda, the balance being salt or something of the sort. The deposit is in the midst of an alkaline flat [illegible] teen acres in extent, and at the surface [illegible] only about three feet wide. Upon digging down, the solid soda was discovered in a defined [illegible] like a quartz ledge. A shaft has been sunk beside it to the depth of fifty feet, from the [illegible] of which a drift has been made [illegible] five feet into the vein or deposit of soda, without getting through it. In fact, very little is known of the depth or extent of this huge deposit of soda, except that there is apparently a [illegible] tons or more of it in sight.

The Record of the Democratic Party

Not long since Mr Sargent of California in a speech in the House of Representatives at Washington gave the record of the Democratic party another airing It came up in this way Certain Democratic members opposed the admission of Porter, Congressman elect from one of the Virginia Districts on the allegation that he had used scandalous language against President Lincoln in 1864 Mr. Sargent replied that a strict application of such a rule would vacate most of the seats on the Democratic side of the Chamber Several Democrats objected to this rejoinder as unjust and slanderous A few days afterwards Mr Sargent proceeded to vindicate and establish his assertion and the array of facts which he produced constitutes a very ugly chapter in the history of the Democratic party We agree with the New York Tribune that the speech, though it fills some eight columns of the Globe, is not a line too long or a morsel too full in its evidence of a lesson which must pass into history We pass by the fact that plotters and leaders of the rebellion, Davis, Toombs, Wigfall, Slidell, Cobb, Breckinridge and others were all Democrats, and come to the more important and shameful part of this record, which shows the subserviency of the Democrats of the North to the rebel leaders and their cause There was ex President Pierce, who wrote a confidential letter of encouragement to Jeff Davis just before hostilities began in which he told the rebel chief in substance that he had a right to secede, and expressed the opinion that if the Abolitionists should try to prevent him the Northern Democracy would take up the cause of their Southern brethren, and the war, instead of being carried on at the South, would blaze forth in all parts of the North. There was Vallandigham, who declared that he "would never vote one dollar whereby one drop of American blood should be shed in civil war,"—which was all the aid and comfort the rebels could have asked. There was Pendleton, who pleaded that the Southern States might be allowed to depart in peace and set up and maintain a government of their own. There was Fernando Wood, who while Mayor of New York, wrote to Toombs, of Georgia, deploring the seizure of arms in New York City designed for the rebels. There was Breckinridge, who remained in the United States Senate plotting treason until long after the war had commenced, and then went South and took a high command in the rebel army. There were all the Democratic conventions denouncing "coercion" in unmeasured terms There were dozens of Democratic Congressmen continually doing the same thing And here is a record of the antecedents of members of the present Congress which is interesting in this connection

Number of Republican Representatives who fought on the Union side, 51, number of Democratic Representatives who so fought, 8. Fifty one to eight!

We need not go into more lengthy details, but join with the Tribune in recommending that readers who are still in doubt "had better get the speech and read it. The truth is so recent, and these facts so plentifully proved, and so indignantly remembered, that even Democrats have been trying ever since the peace to demonstrate that they were excellent loyalists during the whole war. It is up-hill work Gentlemen may explain that they meant this and not that, but all the Union knows what they meant, as well as what they didn't mean. We admit that the party found itself in a tight place; but there were some honorable and sensible Democrats who, seeing no other way of saving their characters, came before the community as war Democrats. Some of them stayed in the Republican ranks; a portion of them went back to their old places; but the bad status of the Democracy during the rebellion must be considered as settled."

The record of this party during the war is familiar to everybody, yet it is not only proper but necessary that the story of its wrongdoing should be frequently related There are some acts of baseness which it would be wrong not to remember.

Government Telegraphs

The system of Government telegraphs, as tried in England, has, so far, proved very unsatisfactory Indeed the whole scheme appears to have collapsed Thus far the experiment has proved a disastrous failure. A letter from London gives the following:

> Heretofore, the English telegraph system has been one of the best in Europe, now, certainly, it is the worst. Its service is now characterized by continual delays and incredible mistakes, prompt delivery being the exception. The local London charges have been doubled for the sake of pedantic uniformity, and for double charge inferior service is given. The total collapse of the provincial system has repeatedly occurred, and London journals are filled with protests, editorial and individual. The country journals are forced to go to press morning after morning without telegrams, or with few The House of Commons responds with complaints, business suffers, the great mercantile communities remonstrate and petition vainly. Probably there never was a period since telegraphing began when the public was so ill served.

There appears to be every probability that public indignation in England will compel the abandonment of the Government system and the establishment of new private lines. It may be worth while for our own country, which is now proposing to take the telegraph lines wholly under Government control, to consider the subject more maturely and wait longer to see what British experience will develop out of it

Editorial Notes

The Olympia Transcript seems to be very anxious that people shall understand that it does not intend to support the Republican ticket this year in Washington Territory This strikes us as unnecessary anxiety No Republican had counted on its support for the party, and all will try to get along without it.

"Our liberties are in danger" exclaims the Herald "The organs of the central despotism are busily engaged in offering to the people of Oregon Congressional subsidies in exchange for the surrender of their liberties" shrieks the Salem Press Do those papers suppose they are addressing simpletons only? It would certainly seem so from the style

A short time ago the Salem woolen factory, which is both the head and backbone of the Democratic party of Oregon, started up with a great flourish of trumpets, proclaiming that no Chinese would be employed, but that this institution, the great friend and staunch defender of white labor, would employ none but white persons The result of this philanthropy is described by an operative in the factory, in this way "The manufacturing company don't employ Chinamen,—nothing of the kind, but they have reduced the pay of white persons to China wages"

A person who calls himself Enquirer has been pestering the La Grande Sentinel with some very knotty questions The editor contends that the final decision of political questions, such as have arisen between the General Government and some of the States rests with the Supreme Court, while Enquirer shows that they rest exclusively with Congress The editor winds up a long and labored article which he has constructed in an attempt to answer Enquirer's logic with the remark that "we must here say that the subject will not be continued" Very judicious conclusion

Nothing is clearer just now in English politics than the failure in education of what is called "the voluntary principle." The English have been beaten as instructors of the people with spontaneous charity, by governmental arrangements in Europe and in the United States—in large empires and little cantons—in military States and in constitutional States Education by spontaneous benevolence has been not only meagre, it has been for the most part sectarian. Proselytism is the mainspring of the voluntary educational movement, and the paramount object.

At a recent meeting the Maine Historical Society was presented with a powder horn, covered with geographical, topographical, and other delineations wrought with a knife. Upon it is the following inscription: "Robert Thom , Jr, His Horn, Made at Fort Edward, Jan 2, 1759" As described, it contains a sketch of New York City, the Hudson River, and some of its tributaries, Albany, Schenectady and other places, and many of the forts then in existence, and extending on the north as far as Lake Ontario The English coat of arms is a also handsomely carved upon it

A striking picture of life in Ireland is given in an extract from a private letter published in an English paper "I happened," says the writer, "to come across an old gentleman going out for a 'constitutional,' and a pretty sight it was in a civilized land First came a brace of policemen armed with carbines, and who kept a sharp look out round all the hedges and other places that might hide a murderer in them, at a distance of some twenty yards or so the old gentleman and his son, each armed with a double barrelled gun over his shoulder, and flanked by other policemen with two more in the rear Nobody dared to stop at his house for the ball, lest they should be shot at in passing to and fro"

Says the New York Herald The report of the committee on the gold panic states that in the whole course of the search into the crooked ways of the gold dealers they have nowhere discovered "a word or an act of the President inconsistent with that patriotism and integrity which befit the Chief Magistrate of the nation" This the people know to be true A whole people is never mistaken in its estimate of a man on so plain a point as that of honesty and if there is a single point in the character of General Grant as to which the people have a perfect and natural confidence it is that he is a man of unimpeachable integrity Only the small whinings of some hungry curs have been heard against this with the wise whispers of quidnuncs who discussed the great gold corner The strong declaration of the committee ought to silence even these whispers and with regard to them it is a good thing to have on the record Otherwise it was not necessary as it only declares what is so clearly shown in Grant's letter to Mr Boutwell and what indeed was repeatedly declared in these columns from the beginning that the President was not in the least degree implicated in the game

FIFTY THOUSAND MILES OF COAL —The New York Herald has had a correspondent for several months engaged in the exploration of the resources of the country opened by the Pacific Railroad Some of the explorer's speculations are of great interest and if true of great importance According to his statements discoveries have been made revealing the existence of immense coal fields stretching from the British possessions almost down to Texas and indicating an inexhaustible store of superior coal on both sides of the Rocky Mountains and especially on the eastern side A scientific agent employed by the railroad company has verified the fact that five thousand square miles of coal lands lie between the line of the Union Pacific Railroad and the Arkansas river Only these veins and not many of them have thus far been opened in Kansas and Nebraska. But the coal lands of the West—west and south of the Missouri river we suppose—the Herald asserts covers an area of fifty thousand square miles In New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming and Utah, however, the supply is more than equal to the demand The Great Basin, which was long supposed to be an utter waste, is now thought to abound in coal Unquestionably these discoveries of coal promise the most substantial enrichment and prosperity to those comparatively unexplored and unsettled portions of our great country.—Des Moines Register

DECISION IN THE U S DISTRICT COURT

A plea false in [illegible] be stricken out

A plea admitting the cause of action [illegible] be stricken out as

A [illegible] that it is not allowed if the matter [illegible] properly pleaded [illegible] included in it

A party may plead separately as many defenses as he may have and one cannot be taken to help or destroy the other

U S District Court—District of Oregon Monday, March 21, 1870

Bachman Trustee of the Estate of Kattenhorn a Bankrupt v Everding & Bebee Action for money had and received

This action was commenced February 24 1870 The complaint alleges that on August 26 1869 Kattenhorn was adjudged a bankrupt in this court and that thereafter such proceedings were had thereon that the plaintiff on October 14 1869 was confirmed by this court as trustee of said estate and is still such trustee and that said defendants on September 4, 1869 received from the firm of Everding & Co of San Francisco $374 47 gold coin for the benefit of said bankrupt's estate and to the use of this plaintiff and afterwards the plaintiff demanded payment of said money from said defendants which demand defendants refused and that by virtue of the premises there is now due to the plaintiff the sum aforesaid in gold coin

On March 2 defendants demurred to complaint because the same did not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action

After argument the demurrer was overruled and on March 10 defendants filed an answer The answer contains two separate pleas or defenses

First—A denial that the defendants on (etc) received the sum aforesaid or any other sum from Everding & Co, of San Francisco or that the same or any other sum was received by them for the benefit of the estate of said Kattenhorn or for or to the use of the plaintiff"

Second—That said Everding & Co about September 4 1869 did credit to defendants the said sum of $374 47 received by them from the sale of property belonging to Kattenhorn before his bankruptcy which property was sold by E & Co before August 26 1869 and that about said day in September "said sum of $374 47 (the proceeds of said sale was placed to the credit of these defendants by said E & Co

On March 14 plaintiff moved to strike out the answer and for judgment, which motion was then argued and submitted

The grounds specified in the motion to strike out are that the answer is sham and frivolous In argument counsel maintained that the first plea was shown to be false by the second one That both could not be true. That the second one admitted what the first one denied—the receipt of the money belonging to the estate of which the plaintiff is trustee; and that the second one being in contemplation of law an admission of the cause of action, is therefore frivolous.

Under the Code, as under the Statute of 4 Anne a defendant is entitled to plead as many defenses to an action as he may have and one cannot be taken to help or destroy another, but each must stand or fall by itself (Gould's Plea 432 15 Mass 68 n (a) 22 Cal 671 1 E D Smith 560)

A plea is called sham when it is palpably false on its face But this falsity cannot be shown by comparing it with another plea or defence in the same answer Otherwise the privilege of pleading several defences would in practice, be restricted within very narrow limits, for fear of one being considered by implication of law to contradict the other The admissions in each plea or defence if any are to be taken as made only for the purpose of the issue made or tendered by it

In this view of the matter, there is no ground for saying that the first plea is false and therefore sham It is a mere denial that the money was received to the use of the plaintiff, and for aught that appears may be true. Besides, the motion being to strike out the whole answer as sham, is too broad A motion to strike out like exceptions for impertinence in chancery is not allowed if any of the matter included in it, is properly pleaded

The application to strike out the whole answer on the ground that the second plea is frivolous, is open to the same objection

Nor do I consider such second plea frivolous Admit the claim of the plaintiff that the plea is merely an admission that the money in question was received by the defendants to plaintiff's use may not a party defendant expressly admit the plaintiff's cause of action by his answer, as well as impliedly so by nil dicit—a failure to answer?

Where no other defence is made than by a plea which the plaintiff conceives to be in legal effect a confession of the cause of action, he should move for judgment on the pleadings, and not to strike out Motion denied with costs

A Quarrel Over a Blessing

[From the Pall Mall Gazette]

It is curious to observe how ready people are to jump at any occasion for a "controversy" Probably as there is a large amount of money lying idle at present, waiting for investment, so there is a vast quantity of controversial spirit which fastens upon any object, however trifling, which may happen to present itself In no other way can we account for the fearful excitement which has been caused by a Greek archbishop having had the goodness to bless some English churchmen The Archbishop of Syra and Tenos, when visiting York Minster, pronounced his benediction in Greek over the members of a deputation Instead of everybody being much obliged to him for taking the trouble, the blessing has led to an angry controversy as to whether a Greek archbishop has any right to bless us at all Happily the Archbishop of York has given his opinion that the prayer of an "alien may be efficacious In other words that we need not be anxious as to the effect of a Greek blessing on an English deputation This is very satisfactory and will, it is to be hoped, allay the panic and settle the question In the meantime we trust the Archbishop of Syra and Tenos will not be deterred by this clamor from blessing English Churchmen whether they like it or not Many of them would be none the worse for a good blessing in any language living or dead, and deputations are frequently so troublesome that they may think themselves very fortunate to receive a blessing in Greek instead of something the reverse in English Nothing but courtesy, indeed, prevents their being frequently addressed in the same terms as those used to a sailor by the boatswain in one of her Majesty's ships where strong language was forbidden— God bless you, you rascal, you know what I mean!

THE ROAST BEEF OF OLD ENGLAND —We must call the attention of the milch cow philosophers of the Nation to some distressing facts just made public by the British board of trade. There has been a falling off in the number of cattle in Great Britain since 1868 of 110 000, sheep have diminished 1 173 000 and pigs 378,000 If this does not show that the wealth of the country is decreasing what is the use of the milch cow theory? At the same time the acres of pasturage have increased by 600 000 so that it actually takes a greater extent of pasturage to keep a smaller number of cattle and sheep which is truly heart rending If this state of things continues a very little ciphering will show that in a few years all the land in England will not support more than ten yoke of oxen Where then will be the noble roast beef, where that fat mutton and crisp roast pig upon which the British constitution, the Anglican church and the hopes of the human race depend? Let us fervently pray that the pasturing will improve, or that Mr Fonblanque will take a new pencil or the painful tendency of British beef and pork to give out be checked in some other way No wonder the English and Irish are emigrating so fast Man cannot live by bread alone and when the Southdown sheep and the Irish pig bid farewell to their native clime why should the human animal linger there?

AN EXPERT We have some here says the Island Empire who claim to know all about rocks ore etc and who will not hesitate to tell you with the most serious face that a given specimen is from a particular mine or that it will yield a certain amount of silver which statements are not always to be relied on They are not generally as successful as was the Professor in the case given below

They tell a good story of a certain well known professor of natural sciences It was the custom of the doctor to encourage his geology class to collect specimens and bring them into the class for analysis and classification So one day a number of specimens were laid upon the table and among them one broken bit which although streaked and stained to impose on the doctor was really nothing but a piece of common brick In due time the professor came to the specimens Taking up one, he says at a glance? "This is a piece of baryta from the Cheshire mines" holding up another, "This is a piece of feldspar from the Portland quarries, the next is a piece of quartz from Haddam and this" coming to the brick, "is a piece of impudence from some member of this class."

PORTLAND LIBRARY ANNUAL REPORT —We evening received the sixth yearly report of Portland Library Association a pamphlet twenty pages and from the same learn that receipts for the last year amounted to $3 71 Expenditures for books newspapers light fuel etc $3 9 80 leaving liabilities During the year 1869 of $264 1869 to the Library by purchase 443 were added to the Library volumes Among these are 36 volumes of the annals of Congress and 62 volumes of the Congressional Globe classified in the report of the Librarian Periodicals This gives the Bound almost a complete history of Congress brary and the Association expect to supply the and volumes during the present year The volumes of the Library of the purchased volumes to the Library The Congressional Globes were $717 84 chased on a long credit for $ 50 During the Library loaned 10 641 volumes which, classified, show 7 391 to have been fiction 851 travel 91 miscellaneous 363 science 512 history, biography 106 religion 266 poetry 113 periodicals The loan in excess of 1868 amounted to 4 449 volumes There are now in the Library 3 180 volumes The membership is at present 256—an excess of 97 over last year Since last annual meeting the Association have removed into a handsome and commodious suite of rooms of which the report of the President says you are aware a lease of these rooms for years from March 1, 1869 has been generously presented to the association by Mr William Ladd Much of the increased interest which been manifested in the Library for the past may be justly attributed to the enhanced facilities and attractions furnished by this means should be remembered by the Association, that we were obliged to pay rent for these rooms would add not less than $1,200 or $1,500 to current expenses Where it would come from with our present resources, I am unable to Yet within the next two years we must meet question and answer it favorably or the Association may as well contemplate its approaching solution And upon the subject of meteorological observations the President says An arrangement is about consummated between the and Common Council of the city and the Association whereby the latter agrees to keep a meteorological record for the coming year, upon plan of the blanks furnished by the Smithsonian Institute for $15 per month The Council furnish the proper instruments and stationary the Librarian is to make the observations and record them and in consideration of this labor the Directors have agreed to allow that officer an increase of $15 per month on his salary

I think the Common Council were not generous in their allowance to the Association and hope they may yet see the propriety and sense of doubling it. I regard this as a some importance to the standing and character this city. Now-a-days, by such means as this town gets its name and locality into scientific reports, papers and books, and is thus introduced to the world and become known of all

Besides, if we were at the pains to publish an authentic weather record, our temperate and agreeable climate could be fully ascertained and appreciated —as is now too often the case

A SENSATION.—When terday morning it was with a sort of impression that the earth upon which he lived and moved, and had his being, was made of that the moon was made of and was made of feathers. If you have felt that way you can comprehend the mental, moral, physical, and psychological look of his soul windows, on such a morning. But he set foot upon the floor he felt just like Atlas, with the heavy world upon his shoulders and no strength to support it. He his ablutions, never omitted any than his prayers, but was constantly his impotent efforts to hold his soap, and into his sponge, of some broken manifested states which has stood beneath the dripping of some antique fountain ancient garden for a half More minor miseries him as he sallied forth to reap his portion of the for the day, and would it at all strange he made fast of any fancy that and like the famous Samuel Pickwick made a note" of everything he all. It finally happened, just as he had a Doctor's door, and stood scanning the of the great and good Abraham Lincoln which are set in stone at the arched way at the Temple of Justice in this Anno Domini 1865 that a sensationalist approached him with the horrifying news that steamship Ajax which left this port evening, together with her whole cargo of and inanimate freight, Gregorian dogs, and was buried in the bottom in the mouth of the Columbia river, near by where Gray his discovery in 1792 What intelligence was for a man to "write up" in the situation local! Forgetting all else, however, he down town asking of every man he met information No facts could be headquarters were reached that the Ajax was disabled, at but that all the passengers, the freight Gregorian dogs were safe. The all else, will receive proper care until repairs be made, when the steamer will proceed with cargo to the place of destination This is the Mr Holladay done We have borrowed a pistol of the engineer of the Orizaba and we are on the look-out for the man started that sensation about the Ajax

CITY.

PORTLAND LIBRARY ANNUAL REPORT.—We last evening received the sixth yearly report of the Portland Library Association, a pamphlet of twenty pages, and from the same learn that the receipts for the last year amounted to $1,715 65. Expenditures, for books, newspapers, light and fuel, etc., $3,979 80, leaving liabilities Dec 31 1869, of $264 15. During the year 1869 there were added to the Library by purchase 443 volumes, and by donation 61 volumes. Among these there are 36 volumes of the annals of Congress and 62 volumes of the Congressional Globe classified in the report of the Librarian as "Bound Periodicals." This gives the Library almost a complete history of Congress and the Association expect to supply the lacking volumes during the present year. The cost to the Library of the purchased volumes is $717 86. The Congressional Globes were purchased on a long credit for $150. During 1869 the Library loaned 10,847 volumes, which, classified, show 7,391 to have been fiction, 801 travels, 441 miscellaneous, 368 science, 519 history, 166 religion, 266 poetry, 113 bound biography, [illegible]. The loan in excess of 1868 amounts to 2,449 volumes. There are now in the Library 5,180 volumes. The membership is at present 256, an excess of 97 over last year. Since the last annual meeting the Association have removed into a handsome and commodious suite of rooms, of which the report of the President says: "As you are aware, a lease of these rooms for three years from March 1, 1869 has been generously [illegible]ared to the association by Mr William S Ladd. Much of the increased interest which has been manifested in the Library for the past year may be justly attributed to the enhanced facilities and attractions furnished by this means. It should be remembered by the Association, that if we were obliged to pay rent for these rooms, it would add, not less than $1,200 or $1,500 to our current expenses. Where it would come from with our present resources, I am unable to say. Yet within the next two years we must meet this question, and answer it favorably or the Association [illegible] well contemplate its approaching dissolution." And upon the subject of meteorological [illegible], the President says: "An arrangement is about consummated between the Mayor and Common Council of the city and the Association, whereby the latter agree to keep a meteorological record for the coming year, upon the [illegible] of the blanks furnished by the Smithsonian Institute, for $15 per month. The Council are to furnish the proper instruments and stationery and the Librarian is to make the observations and record them, and in consideration of this extra labor the Directors have agreed to allow that officer an increase of $15 per month on his salary. [illegible] the Common Council were not very [illegible] in their allowance to the Association, and hope it may yet see the propriety and fitness of [illegible]. I regard this as a matter of importance to the standing and character of [illegible]. Now a-days, by such means as this, a [illegible] its name and locality into scientific records and books, and is thereby introduced [illegible] world and becomes known of all men. [illegible] we were at the pains to keep and [illegible] an authentic weather record, our wholesome, temperate and agreeable climate could not [illegible] falsely misrepresented and depreciated abroad as is now too often the case."

[illegible].—When Lookabitems awoke yesterday morning it was with a sort of dead weight [illegible] that the earth upon which he lived, [illegible] and had his being, was made of lead, [illegible] moon was made of green cheese, and that [illegible] made of leather. If you have ever [illegible] you can comprehend the mental, [illegible] and psycological lookout from [illegible] windows on such a morning. But when [illegible] upon the floor he felt just like another [illegible] with the heavy world resting between his [illegible], and no strength to support it. He [illegible] his ablutions, never omitted any more than his prayers, but was constantly reminded in [illegible] efforts to hold his soap, and manipulate [illegible], of some broken fingered, limb [illegible] which has stood beneath the re[illegible] drippings of some antique fountain in [illegible] garden for at least two epi-cycles and a half. More minor miseries beset him as he strayed forth to reap his portion of the current literature of the day, and would it seem at all strange that [illegible] fancy that presented itself—[illegible] like the famous Samuel Pickwick, Esq., [illegible] a note of everything he heard? not at all. It finally happened; just as he had left a [illegible] door, and stood surveying the calm [illegible] of the [illegible] and good Abraham Lincoln, [illegible] in stone at the arched front doorway of the temple of Justice erected in this city Anno Domini 1865, that a sensationalist approached him with the horrifying news that the [illegible] Ajax, which left this port on Saturday [illegible], together with her whole cargo of living [illegible] freight, Gregories' dogs, and all, [illegible] in the bottom in the mouth of the [illegible] Columbia river, near by where Gray made [illegible] in 1792. What intelligence was that, [illegible] to "write up" in the situation of ye [illegible]. Forgetting all else, however, he started [illegible] asking of every man he met farther [illegible]. No facts could be ascertained until [illegible] were reached. Then he learned [illegible] the Ajax was disabled, at Astoria, but that all the passengers, the freight, and [illegible] dogs were safe. The passengers and [illegible] will receive proper care until repairs can be made, when the steamer will proceed with her [illegible] to the place of destination. This is the way [illegible] does business. We have borrowed a pistol of the engineer of the locomotive Oregon, and are on the look out for the man who [illegible] that sensation about the Ajax.

THE PRIMARY MEETINGS.—The Republican primary meetings, held in this city yesterday [illegible] off very quietly. There were two tickets [illegible] separate sets of delegates voted for. The following were chosen to represent the wishes of the party in the County Convention, which is to assemble on Saturday next:

NORTH PORTLAND PRECINCT

George L. Story, William Cornell, Thomas J Dryer, P. W Gillette, A B Stewart.

WASHINGTON PRECINCT

Phil. Wasserman, E M Barton, J M Breck, W. H. Harris, R. Weeks, Howard Northrup, W H. Brackett, C P Crandall, Wm O Bruen, C H. Mills, A. Buelbwiler.

Wm O Bruen received the same number of votes as Weeks and Moreland, but the latter withdrew in consequence of contemplated absence.

CENTRAL PRECINCT

J. B Congle, Ira Goodnough, A Taylor, S [illegible] Skidmore, J F Caples, Geo E Watkins, Geo A. Steel, O P Mason, J L Steel, Wm H Watkins, A. C. Gibbs.

SOUTH PORTLAND PRECINCT

Charles Hodge, J O Carson, C H Hopkins, Geo. H. Belden, Wm F Wilcox, H B Oatman, J. M. Drake, J M Strowbridge, J H Egan, J M. Ritchie, C H Marvin, J L Atkinson, J H Lyon, James Lotan.

EAST PORTLAND

Edward Long, J Kenworthy, O M Barnard, R. D. Austin, N Kennedy, William Barnard.

PERSONAL.—Gov Geo. L. Woods called upon [illegible]. He is looking extremely well, and is politically about as well as he looks.

U S DISTRICT COURT—DEADY JUDGE.—March 21st 1870.—Joseph Bachman vs Everding & Beebe, motion to strike out part of answer denied. Whalley for plaintiff; [illegible] for deft.

U S vs Edward Mathieu: on application of U S Attorney and by consent the hearing upon the motion to set aside verdict and for new trial was set for Monday 28th inst.

C H Meyers vs steamboat Mary Bell; set for trial on Monday next.

J C Mardey vs steamboat Mary Bell; same order as above.

U S vs F E [illegible] Bros: order to distribute funds.

In re P M and C W Abbey, involuntary bankruptcy; by consent the answer of the alleged debtors is withdrawn. Logan, Shattuck and [illegible] for creditors; Eccleston for debtors.

Benj Stark vs H Failing et al: action to recover possession of real property. By consent this cause was placed on the docket for hearing on demurrer to answer. Page & Thayer for plff; Logan & Shattuck for defts.

John R Lamb et al vs Jacob Kamm et al: argument on demurrer to bill of complaint. Hill, Page & Thayer for complainants; Logan & Shattuck for defendants.

O P Mason was admitted to this Court.

THE AJAX ACCIDENT.—Notwithstanding the many and ridiculous stories sent all [illegible] yesterday concerning the accident to the Ajax, we learned from a dispatch received at the office of the North Pacific Transportation Company that the damage amounts to nothing [illegible] the temporary delay of a day or two for repairs. It appears that as the vessel was on the bar going out the rudder post was started [illegible] the stern caused by a line in the wheel. The Captain tells the agent that it will be necessary to discharge a part of the cargo in repairing. The passengers will remain on board.

VERY PRETTY WORK.—Mr George Bowman has shown us a very pretty specimen of his handiwork, in the shape of a solid wood frame carved in representation of a climbing vine, from a piece of Spanish buttonwood, which he himself procured at Key West Florida, some years since. Inclosed in this frame is a neat pencil sketch of the ruins of the old Jamestown church tower, which he made whilst attending school in Boston. Altogether George has produced a little keepsake ornament which is really meritorious.

SOAKING HIS FEET.—An unfortunate individual from French Prairie was seen about five o'clock last evening soaking his feet in the gutter in front of a Chinese den on Alder street. It wasn't corns on his toes that troubled him, but imitation of fermented corn juice in the stomach, such as is retailed in this city for a bit a glass.

ABSURD.—The Evening Commercial has too much good sense to bite at the story of the Herald about ten Democrats drinking $40 worth of whisky on a short steamboat excursion of five miles in Yamhill county recently and very correctly attacks the slander and says that it is a calumny which ought at once to be retracted.

ADDITION.—Messrs Russell & Ferry have laid off an addition to East Portland in blocks the same as in Portland, and tracts of five acres each on the Tibbetts land claim and several parties have already purchased homesteads there. One of the parties purchasing is a wealthy citizen of San Francisco.

FUNERAL SERVICES.—We have been requested to state that the funeral of Mrs Virginia F Collins, who died at Oregon City on Sunday, will take place to day from the Catholic Church in this city at half past nine o'clock a m. All friends and acquaintances are invited to attend.

POSTPONED.—The fourth lecture in the course of six lectures, for the benefit of the Young Men's Christian Association, has been postponed until next Tuesday evening March 29th at which time it will be delivered by Rev P S Knight, of Salem. Subject—"Church Etiquette."

DOING WELL.—Capt Keeler recently of Oregon, seems to be doing well in New York city, in his Oregon and Northwestern Agency. His price list for February is a pamphlet of 220 pages, closely printed.

THE DAY.—The Moses Taylor is to leave this port for San Francisco next Saturday, at 4 o clock P M, and not a week from that date as stated in the advertisement yesterday. The error was made in this paper.

JUBILATING.—Some of the Chinese who had sent friends home by the Hattie C. Besse, were jubilating yesterday because of the news of her safe arrival in China.

THE ORIGINAL.—A man claiming to be the original King of Pain, Dr Deamas, is now in Marysville, California.

THE NORTHWEST PASSAGE.—A telegram says Captain C F Hall proposes to make another trip in search of the Northwest Passage. He intends to start with a 150 ton propeller, to be provided also with sails. He will also have a topsail schooner of about the same tonnage. His route will be into Jones' Sound, and thence by sea or land, as circumstances favor him, to the Pole. After taking the vessels as far as practicable, Capt. Hall intends to take Esquimaux dogs and sledges, and prosecute his search. Admiral Grinnell, of the Japan Navy, and recently of the United States Navy, will, it is said, accompany Hall.

RAILROAD MATTERS are very likely to be lively this spring. The East Side Company will engage a large force of men to complete their road to Albany and the West Side Company will very probably, build a portion of their road in order to obtain a land grant to facilitate the building of their line to McMinnville. Kohn & Fishel are keeping up with railroad times. Their stock of spring goods coming across the continent by rail will be the largest and finest stock of Clothing ever imported to this State. Their stock in store now is offered very low to make room for large arrivals. They are manufacturing the neatest Boys' Suits and always have on hand a large stock of the same which are offered at lowest figures.

Every description of plain and ornamental sewing, executed at the rooms of the GROVER & BAKER S M Co. WM CURRIER & Co Agents.

THE PEOPLE SAY

That PRATT'S A[illegible] Oil is the best remedy in the world for the complete and speedy cure of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Lame Back, Gout, Chilblains, Sprains, Bruises, Stiff and Swelled Joints, Contracted Cords and Muscles, Pain in the Breast and Sides, Nervous Headache, Toothache, Earache, Sore Throat, Colic, Cramps, Cholera Morbus, Diarrhoea, and all internal and external aches and pains. Put up in two sizes, at 50 cents and $1 00. Circulars will be found around the bottles. For sale by all druggists.

THE BLOOD AND LIVER

Life and health depend upon their condition. PRATT'S New Life purifies the blood, heals all sores, expels from the system all painful [illegible], cutaneous eruptions and impure matter. It stimulates the Liver and Kidneys to healthy action, regulates the Bowels, cures Piles and Dyspepsia. Persons subject to Bilious attacks, and those suffering from the effects of Fever and Ague, and in [illegible] use of Quinine and Mercury will find PRATT'S New Life invaluable. Price $1 00.

Irritable Invalids

Indigestion not only affects the physical health but the disposition and tempers of its victims. The Dyspeptic becomes too [illegible] demoralized by his sufferings. He is subject to fits of irritation, silentness or despair, as the case may be. A preternatural sensitiveness which he cannot control leads him to misconstrue the words and acts of those around him and his intercourse even with those nearest and dearest to him is not unfrequently marked by exhibitions of testiness foreign to his real nature. Those are the mental phenomena of the disease for which the invalid cannot be justly held responsible but they occasion much household discomfort. It is to the interest of the home circle, it is essential to family harmony as well as to the rescue of the principal sufferer from a state not far removed from incipient insanity, that these symptoms of mental disturbance be promptly removed. This can only be done by removing their physical cause, a derangement of the functions of the stomach and its allied viscera, the liver and the bowels. Upon these three important organs Hostetter's Stomach Bitters act simultaneously, producing a thorough and salutary change in their condition. The vegetable ingredients of which the preparation is composed are of a renovating, regulating and alterative character and the stimulant which lends activity to their remedial virtues is the purest and best that can be extracted from the most wholesome of cereals viz. sound rye. No dyspeptic can take this genial restorative for a single week without experiencing a notable improvement in his general health. Not only will his bodily sufferings abate from day to day but his mind will recover from its restlessness and irritability, and this happy change will manifest itself in his demeanor and to all around him.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities, CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here and in the markets of the interior a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers and every day he sees increasing the number of those who by counterfeit or imitation of his mark seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeitors. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned and placed on their guard against this practice.

DAWES' NEW HAMPSHIRE SPEECH.

The speech delivered by Congressman Dawes Nashua (N. H.), about three weeks since was good in many of its features that it will be in- resting here. We quote from the New York ibune's report:

The Hon. Henry L. Dawes entered the cam- ign in New Hampshire to-night by speaking to out 1,000 people in the City Hall, under the spices of the Republican State Central Com- ttee. Since his speech on the floor of the House, out three weeks since, speculation has been rife this State as to what would be his future stand relation to the Republican party, with which has ever been associated. The Labor Reform- s have claimed him as a particular champion, d the Democrats have avowed that he had made breach in the Republican ranks which would ver be healed. One of the Democratic papers this State on Thursday, the 24th inst., declared disbelief in the truth of the statement that he as to speak for the Republicans, and said: When we know that he has been here we shall lieve it, but not until then.''

The announcement of the Republican Commit- e that he would speak, together with his out- oken words in his letter to the Hon. E. H. Rol- ns and the New Hampshire delegation in Con- ess, have sent a tremor to the hearts of the emocrats and the child of their creation and stering care—the "Labor Reform" party. Cu- osity to hear him, of course, has been running gh, and the speech will be read by every voter the State who can procure it, and will work a sult for good which no other one at this time uld accomplish.

At the meeting this evening, the Hon. S. T. oncester of this city, who was a member of Con- ress from Ohio in 1861 and 1862, presided. He troduced Mr. Dawes, who had a very warm and thusiastic reception. He first reviewed the his- ry of the Republican and Democratic parties, luding to the unsuccessful attempt of the latter make Kansas a Slave State, the position of ch party during the great struggle of the past 0 years, and the scenes in the Senate during the ast week, when the Democratic party vented its npotent rage on Senator Revels of Mississippi, ho is now one of their peers on the floor of the enate. He showed that the rebellion was brought n by the Democrats, and that they voted in Con- ress as a party against appropriating money to ay our soldiers. Throughout it was a masterly rgument on the past and present issues. The llowing are the material portions of his address:

THE [illegible] REFORMERS A BRANCH OF THE DE- MOCRACY.

I have come to answer, as near as I may, this ewed appeal of the Democratic party to the people of this country, made here in New Hamp- shire at first, and to be repeated again in the ther States, to be restored to that confidence and ower which ten years ago in the nation, and fif- een years ago in this State, upon solemn trial nd judgment, the people of the country took om them. I say the Democratic party. I am ell aware that here, as in other States, but mani- esting itself here, I understand, rather more rominently than usual, there are allies of the emocratic party fighting under another name nd another organization. But such is the nature f political administration that, really and sub- tantially, there can be in this land but two par- es; and he who is not for the party which has pon itself the responsibility of the administration f public affairs, is against it. I do not mean to y that those who may for a time be drawn away y the allurements of new names, new promises, r new professions, are consciously and wittingly utting themselves in the position of those who re intent upon weakening and destroying the ower of the Republican party. I know there re many honest, worthy men who are for time rawn away thus, but if they come to reflect upon he nature of party politics, they will see that all who draw against the Republican party must raw and work together, and will, ultimately, as ertainly drop into the arms of the Democratic arty, whether they so intend or not, as the infant rops into the arms of its mother, and they will ever mistake who that mother is. Therefore I ay to you that it is the Democratic party resort- ng to new means, new efforts, new devices, under ifferent names. Their discussions are on those opics and subjects in which there is no difference etween them and the Democratic party, con- cious that with that party they are at work, and y that party they are countenanced, and nursed, nd supported; as from necessity they must be.

THE ADVANTAGES OF PROTECTION TO HOME INDUS- TRY.

This afternoon I came across a beautiful iron ridge over the Connecticut river. They told me hat it cost $500,000, but that it was all made in ngland. Every day's work performed upon hat, except putting the pieces together, they told e was performed in England. It took a great many men a great while to do it, in a great work- hop, and where that workshop was there must ave been a great many families, and where those amilies were there must have been a good many ecessities to supply them with their wants. here must have been the shoemaker, the hatter, he tailor, and the baker. There must have been great many schoolhouses there, and I have no oubt have [illegible] churches. Now, fellow-citizens, hich would have been the best, to have had that illage on this side of the water or on the other ide? That is all there is in this question. Had he laws of the land made it cheaper to have rought the raw material here, the bridge would ave been made here; the churches and school- ouses would have been here; and the mechanics who gathered around and lived in such a village, would also have been here. The capital would ave been here, too, which would have been the [illegible] of all. They tell us that in Iowa they can- ot get enough for the corn they raise to pay for aising it, and that they sometimes burn it for uel. Would it not have been a great thing for them f this City of Nashua could have been set right own in Iowa, to have furnished a market for heir corn—a nucleus around which to gather all hese mechanics, all this wealth, and all this capi- al, and to furnish the man who feels as if the la- or of his hands is not rewarded sufficiently, and hat his hard hand has not sufficient influence and power? Would it not have been better for him to ave [illegible] put down in such a village, with such an pportunity to assert his manhood, and achieve [illegible] and independence, and stand upon his own bottom than to have undertaken the [illegible] of regulating the number of hours he shall work by statute, or the amount of pay he shall receive, or the treatment that his employer shall extend toward him by statute? Let him stand upright upon his own earnings, and his own competence, and he can face employer and the world in the consciousness of his own power.

THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY THE ENEMY OF THE WORK- INGMAN.

Now, which of these two parties is it that would ng this village on this side of the water, and ch is it that by Free Trade brings in the man- actured article cheaper than the raw material, d, therefore, puts the village and the workshop that side of the water instead of this? Why, y are trying at this moment to build railroads rough Missouri, the Indian Territory, and New xico to California, and where do you think y get their rails? Why, in England, and they ng them over here in ships, and take them und the Gulf, through the Gulf, up the Miss- ppi to St. Louis, and put them on the Iron untain Railroad, and take them right down by mountain of solid iron, almost as big as your hite Mountains, and the capital and the labor d all that makes labor rich and powerful is 'on other side of the water. Which of these par s is it that proposes to furnish an opportu- y on this side of the ocean, and which is it t by Free Trade proposes to keep the capital ployed over there, where wages are not half at they are here; where men work for a pittance therefore can make the manufactured article aper than it can be made here? Answer these stions, ye honest men, into whose ears this mocratic party is whispering now that you st break away from the Republican party, and d their aid to them. The history of legisla- for forty years upon this subject will bear out in saying that the laborer in this land has nd in the Democratic party his deadliest one When did the Democratic party ever have reputation for economy in public affairs? e its history. Go back to Mr. Pierce's Ad- istration, in a time of profound peace. With occasion for any extra expenditure of public ney, and how did he leave it? With an addi- of some $12,000,000 to the debt of nation. And what did President Buch- n do? He added the sum of $70,000,000 more he debt. In a time of profound peace, with sperity in the land, revenue increasing and rflowing, he added $70,000,000 to the $12,000- of debt that existed at the end of Mr. Pierce's inistration, and the very last year of it, with the revenues of the country on a war basis, to t and liquidate the public debt, with every ob- ation upon the administration of public affairs could be brought to bear, in the burden that ed upon the people, in the patriotic sacrifices people were making to meet the exigencies of Government. The very last year of Andrew nson's Administration be added to instead of ing a dollar of the public debt. He added 000,000 to it. Is there anything in the past ory of the Democratic party that encourages people to think that, if the power were re- ed to their hands to-day, they would be econ- al in the expenditure of the public money? re are the Perry Fullers and the men of that e? They only slumber, they are not dead; when that party comes into power, their heads will rise all over the land, their opportunities will come, the public treasury will be plundered anew, and the burdens that the people are bearing will not only be grievous as they are to-day to be borne in time to come, but they will have the consciousness of knowing that they are going to be squandered upon unworthy, dishonest and profligate officials, such as darkened the avenues of the Treasury Department in the years that are passed. Such as hovered around the great Custom House and Internal Revenue offices in the immediate past; such as hung upon Andrew Johnson in the last years of his administration, ready to prey upon the public Treasury. These men are behind those that are calling upon you to transfer the power in this nation in their hands, and take it from the Republican party.

THE ECONOMY OF THE PRESENT ADMINISTRATION.

How is it now, fellow citizens, with the Republican party? Have they no claims to honesty and economy in the public affairs? They have been in power eleven months, and I can show the account of their work up to this day. I took from the Treasury books yesterday, and I state it to you just as it is in contrast with what I told you of the last year of Andrew Johnson, who spent all the treasure and all the revenues of the land, and ran the nation into debt, adding to the $2,500,000,000, under which it is groaning to-day, $6,000,000 more. During the last year, Mr. Johnson received $368,000,000 and he incurred a debt in addition of $6,000,000, so that he expended $374,000,000. In the first year of Gen. Grant's administration, with no higher rate of taxation, but, on the other hand, with reduced taxation in some particulars, he has gathered into the Treasury from his officials' hands, $394,000,000 (instead of $368,000,000) from the same taxes; but, instead of spending all that in the current expenses of this first year, he has paid $80,000,000 of the public debt out of it! [Great applause] So that he has expended only $314,000,000 against $374,000,000 spent in the last year of Andrew Johnson's administration, making just a difference of $60,000,000. This is from the books. He has collected $26,000,000 more for this present year than Andrew Johnson did in his last year, and $20,000,000 of that is from the internal taxes of the land, which were not a mill higer, and on some articles were lower than last year. Why has he collected $20,000,000 more? Because there has been less stolen. [Laughter and applause.] Let me tell you there is a good deal of difference between the politics of my district and the two Congressional Districts in Brooklyn, New York. You know what the difference is. There are two distilleries in my District—I wish there were none there—and there are 129 in Brooklyn, yet the two in my District paid more money into the Treasury last year than all of the 129 in Brooklyn. What is the reason? Because the men in my District are brought up as they are in New Hampshire, and have an idea that they must pay their taxes honestly, while there is no such idea in Brooklyn. [Applause.] That is the account up to date between the administration of Gen. Grant and that of Mr. Johnson last year.

PRESIDENT GRANT'S PLEDGE TO NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Now what is the promise for the future? What is the prospect on the question of public expenditures for next year? Upon that point I propose to speak plainly—as you can find I have spoken plainly elsewere. [Applause.] It is true that the Bureau officers of the several Departments—and, by-the-bye, more than half of them have been inherited from the last Administration—in making their estimates for appropriations for the next year, asked too much. When these appropriations came to be all aggregated, to be sent to the House, the whole amount was alarmingly too much, and I took the liberty to tell the men responsible for it that it was too much, [applause,] and, gentlemen, if you want any assurance for the coming year, or for the remaining years of this Administration, as in this very year, that there will be no tendency upward, but rather downward, you will find it in the answer, which the whole people made demanding that these appropriations for the next year should not be larger than the appropriations for this year, and in the unanimity in the Executive branch of the Government and in Congress, in the work they have been applying themselves to, in cutting down the appropriations for the year. There is no division. There is an earnest conscientious effort in all branches of the Government to see to it that there shall not be a dollar more appropriated for the next year than for this. [Applause.] I was charged, yesterday afternoon, by the President himself, with this message to the people of New Hampshire—[loud applause]—when I told him I was coming here. He told me to assure the people of New Hampshire that this exhibit I have made here of the successful collection, and the economical expenditure of the public money during the present year, is an earnest of a pledge of what it shall be in the year to come. [Great applause] Tell the people of New Hampshire that during my administration there shall be no ascending scale of public expenditures [deafening applause]; but, whenever and wherever the closest scrutiny shall disclose the possibility of cutting off a dollar, it shall be done. [Long and continued applause.

THE STRENGTH OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

There is one other thing which I wish to mention to-night. Gen. Grant is at the head of the party. Thank God that he can criticise it. A party that can probe and uncover its sores can grow strong and healthy by self-probing. What has it done this last week but to take one of its own members found to be corrupt, and driven him by a unanimous vote from the halls of Congress. Did you ever find the Democratic party in pursuit of any corruption within its own ranks? [laughter] except to fatten on it? Did you ever find them hunting up those who lived upon the plunder of the public Treasury within their own ranks, and bringing them to condign punishment? I am proud to belong to a party so conscious of the rectitude of its intentions and the strength of its position that it can bear to have the plain truth told it by its own friends; and I assure you that I take the greatest pleasure in bringing to you the message of the President himself, given to me yesterday, and to show you that all departments of the Government, Executive as well as Legislative, are to be united in the work of reducing the public expenditures. [Applause.] The Democratic party is the same as it was twenty years ago, and seems to take no note of passing events. It is still haunted by the negro, but he rises as it fights, and all efforts to crush him have lifted him higher and higher, till he has taken his seat as a peer of the Saulsburys, in the very seat of Jefferson Davis. What new claim has the Democratic party to put forth that shall justify the people in restoring it to power? It has none. If, on the other hand, a candid and fair review of what the Republican party has done, and is capable of doing, has given a generous pledge of what it will do, does it not make every one of the good and patriotic citizens of New Hampshire stand stronger and firmer in his adherence to the principles and the organization of that party? [Loud and protracted applause]

Clackamas County Union Republican Convention.

There will be held at the Court House, in Oregon City, on Saturday, the 26th day of March, 1870, at 10 o'clock A. FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

PORTLAND, Monday, March 21, 1870.

No gold quotations received to-day.

Legal Tenders steady, at 89.

As a matter of general interest, we collate here the opinions of the various New York newspapers concerning the causes of the late decline in gold. The New York Tribune, of one of the last days of February said:

"On the 28th of September, 1869, the premium on gold was [illegible]; and to-day the sales opened at 117⅞. During the intervening period, gold has not touched so low a point as to-day. [illegible] Its weakness seems to have taken all by surprise. Nothing but some exciting foreign news—a revolution in France, a declaration of war by Spain against the United States, or a resolution to annex Cuba attached to a bill to increase the paper currency $50,000,000—will check its downward tendency. The truth is there is no actual strength in the gold market, for the best of reasons, that there is no demand for gold, and it is an expensive article to keep or to carry. All who are not interested in free trade—who are not importers of foreign goods, wines, brandies, &c., but who believe home interests more important, and the protection to domestic labor a duty, will rejoice in the downward price of gold. Many have longed to see the day when our Government bonds would be equal to gold in the market. That point is reached here, and they are within 2½ per cent. of gold in London, and the price going up there. The abundance of gold here, with the limited demand, the large supply of money in foreign markets, and the advance in the price of Governments there, with the belief that Congress will pass a funding bill, all tend to keep up the price of our securities, and to depress the price of gold."

This is what the Sun of the same date says:

"The chief reason of the decline in the gold premium is owing to the fact that importers are long on gold, when heretofore they have been on the short side. This change of base was brought about by the September panic, when the importers were reported to have been caught badly, and they determined hereafter to be on the right side, and have purchased large amounts at prices ranging from 120 to 130. The short interest, therefore, of the commercial classes, which has heretofore been the chief basis for a successful upward speculation, is on the bull side, while the operators in the gold room have reversed their tactics, and are chiefly ranged with the cliques operating for a decline, as, in fact, a majority of the speculators in the gold room are short."

The Herald gives us this reason:

"The reason generally assigned for the remarkable decline in gold, was that the increasing demand for American securities in Europe would so supply the requirements for gold that comparatively little would have to be shipped this year, and consequently every one looked upon the downward movement as a healthy indication in the market, whose beneficial results would be permanently felt throughout the country. Nobody seemed disposed to speculate rashly on the chances of fluctuations, and the steadiness with which the decline was characterized imparted confidence in circles liable to alarm and derangement at any sudden important variation in the gold market."

The Times says:

"There is no doubt that the decline has been largely influenced by the purchase of United States 5-20s for the sinking fund at home, and the appreciation of their credit abroad—the latter controlling, in a large measure, the question of the future export of gold to settle trade balances and traveling credits in Europe. The current opinion now runs so strongly in one direction that there is danger that a short interest is being created in gold, which upon the slightest adverse news of a political or financial nature might lead to a violent reaction in the premium. This interest is already said to be large, but we see no evidence that the sellers for the decline have the slightest trouble in borrowing gold on interest ranging from 3 to 5 per cent."

The World has this to say:

"The course of the gold market is the absorbing topic of discussion. The popular opinion is in favor of further decline. Gold is heavy to carry—being full currency-borrowing rates—and it is likely so to continue until specie becomes money. Then the holders of gold will be enabled to obtain interest for its use, instead of being required, as at present, to pay interest for it. The uselessness of gold under our present lawful money system is the real cause of its steady decline in price. There is really but little legitimate use for gold in the city of New York. The stock of gold in the city is enormous. The only relief for this glut of gold on our market, namely, its export to foreign countries, seems to be remote, owing to the large exports of cotton and our bonds and other securities to Europe."

There is nothing worthy of particular remark concerning the local markets. There is a moderate volume of trade in dry goods and groceries; in other lines business is quiet.

The receipts of domestic produce to-day were inconsiderable, aggregating only 900 qr sks flour, [illegible] gunnies potatoes, 80 boxes eggs, 2 cases bacon, 65 kegs dried apples, 76 bags wheat, 1 case furs and 6 bales woolens.

Gen. Saxton, Chief Quartermaster of the Department of Columbia, advertises for bids for the delivery at various military posts in this Department, of supplies as follows, in the aggregate: Oats, 3,241,208 lbs; Barley, 875,000 lbs; (portions of each, for "oats or barley;") Hay, 4,910,246 lbs; Straw, baled, 810,656 lbs; Hard wood, 2,735 cords; charcoal, 2,435 bushels. Bids will be received till noon of May 7th, 1870, and the usual conditions are prescribed.

The Olympia Transcript of the 19th, says: Several of our merchants are taking greenbacks at par for goods, and some even for notes and accounts due. We think they are wise in doing it. Quick sales, with a small profit, is better than keeping old goods on the shelves and no sales."

The Seattle Intelligencer reports that a number of miners are at work at the Sultan river mines, obtaining good pay.

Letter from an Interior Merchant.

MR. EDITOR: Under date of March 4th I noticed an editorial in the OREGONIAN recommending the organization of a Board of Trade by the merchants of Portland for certain specified objects.

Allow me to state some other objects connected with the present anomalous condition of trade in Oregon, that should engage the attention of such an organization. I suppose the proper and legitimate customers of the wholesale dealers are the retail dealers, to whom the wholesalers should allow a living margin; and not them immediately turn round and compete with the retailer in his own neighborhood in the retail trade. This, many of the merchants of Portland do. And the effect is to ruin the country merchant, or drive him directly to headquarters to buy, which some of the country merchants, who are able, at present do, and those who are not able are doing a languishing trade.

By offering to sell to the farmers, mechanics, and other consumers, at the same prices they do to the merchant, they thereby invite all the farmers and mechanics of the whole Willamette and Umpqua valleys to come to Portland to trade with them instead of the retailer at their own doors. And to this invitation the farmers and mechanics to a great extent respond.

If the merchants of Portland want to do the whole retail trade of Oregon, at wholesale prices, let them say so! Or, if they wish to sell at both wholesale and retail, and at the same time make the difference between wholesale and retail so small as to leave no margin to the retailer after paying freight, let them say so! so that all the retailers who are not able to buy at head quarters may retire from the business; for, according to the present practices of the Portland merchants, they will sooner or later be driven from the field. I make these suggestions, hoping an able pen will take up the subject and do it justice.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from European and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes; pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, feted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating the disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of his complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, and upon will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten, are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patient's letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, (Private Entrance on Commercial) San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER

Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.
